TO THE CLASS OF '60.

Dear Friends,

The "fabulous fifties" have passed into limbo, and, as you leave Martin Van Buren for the commencement of adult life, our planet spins into a decade still unlimited by a descriptive adjective. For your Yearbook theme you have selected "Windows," a happy choice as you look out upon the years-to-be from the vantage point of adolescence and our academic walls. Windows appropriately represent our school. This many of you must have observed walking to school in the early morning with the sun's rays reflected from the banks of glass fenestration on the east wall, or looking up at the magnificent library windows while you hurry up the steps with hands of the ultra modern school clock anxiously pointing toward the glass doors at the entrance.

May I wish all of you a future rich in the high adventure that inevitably accompanies a quest for greater knowledge, spiritual satisfaction, and an abiding love for humanity. May you never find yourselves surrounded by

"Rich windows that exclude the light
And passages that lead to nothing"

On the contrary, may life always beckon you to new experiences through

"Charmed magic casements, opening on the foam
Of perilous seas, in fairy lands forlorn."

Windows of the Mind

A mind ripe for education is encased in a number of unusual windows. Through these windows and into the brain flow the raw materials of intellect, the factors which will combine in the brain to make a mind capable of leading a human organism through life and its problems.

Everyday glass windows in a room admit the sunlight from the world outside, but keep the heat produced by the light from escaping; thus using the light to warm the room. The windows on the mind act in the same way, letting in the daylight of education and holding it in to warm, to nourish, the mind within. Unlike the windows of a room, though, each window on the mind lets in a different color light; and it takes them all combined into one brilliant white beam, to fully illuminate the mind.

One of the biggest and most important educational windows on the mind is the sense of sight. The student sees words and symbols, which form ideas and images, on blackboards and in books of all types. They are quickly stored away for future use and become part of the person and part of his thinking from then on. These symbols, gathered together in groups and sorted into categories, may be re-used "as is" to solve a problem or answer a question. This re-use is their most common application.

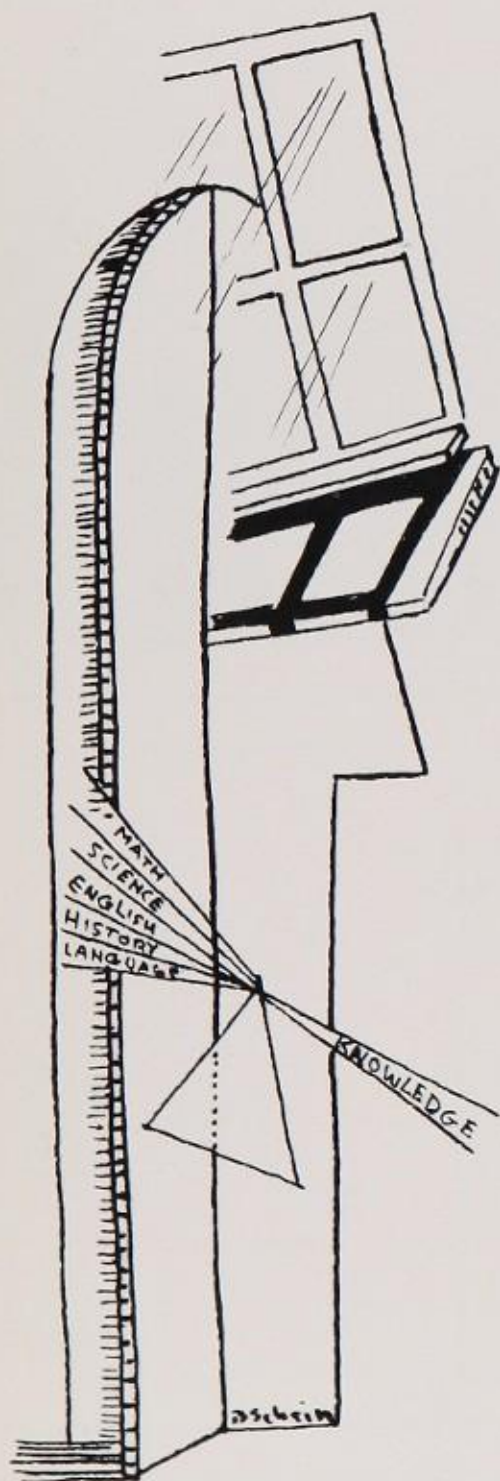

This sight window, along with all the other available sensory windows, can be developed by a system of education to its height of perfection, and still not produce an educated individual. The most important application of the sorted, grouped symbols has not been made. One color light is still missing, one window is still to be used.

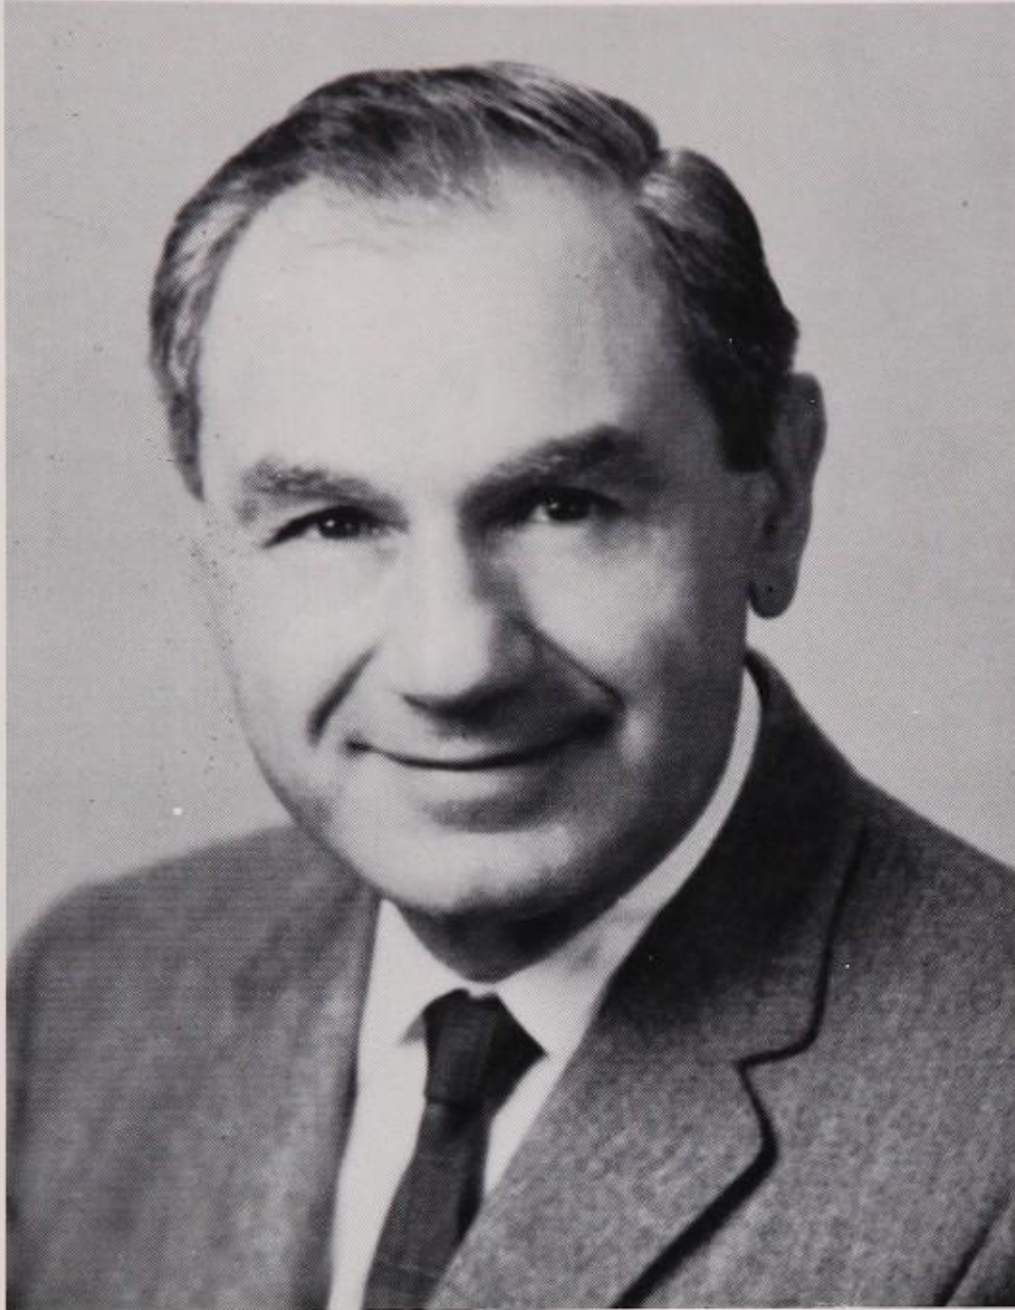

A person endowed with all the knowledge in the world is nothing unless he uses his most vital window, his SELF window. It is this window that adds the binding, unifying force of SELF to the information, points of view, theories and philosophies formed by the sets of symbols in the brain. This window is the only window on the mind that does not open to the outside. It opens instead to the inside of the person, onto that which has often been called his soul. From this source springs the force of SELF. The nature and makeup of the force is determined by past experiences which have combined with the basic inborn characteristics of the person's individuality, to produce his emotional patterns and sense of beauty. This force re-shuffles the symbols, and unifies them with something of its own substance to produce an original thought or idea. Education is not seeking to create a race of computers which can receive a problem, apply the correct information and come up with the correct answer. Education cultivates original thought and mental creativity.

Given: A person with a background in the facts of mathematics, science, and engineering. Leave out the SELF window and you get a computer; put it in and you get an Einstein. Given: A person with a superior knowledge of language and a normal ability to see or hear. Leave out the SELF window, and you have nothing; add it, and you have a Shaw, a Mark Twain, or a Shakespeare.

Everybody has a SELF window, even if some of his other windows are darkened. Using the other windows he has, and his SELF window, everyone can be a Shakespeare or an Einstein in his own way. It is the job of formal education to make sure that everyone learns to use all the windows he has. And it is the job of every individual to make sure he uses the training of formal education to his fullest ability.

The Teenage Revolution

The American teenager, a product of the past decade, plays a new and vital role in America. The teenager, an unknown person only ten years ago, is an important person today. Just ten years ago, no one paid any particular attention to us; but today, fashion designers concentrate on our whims; Tin Pan Alley caters to a large degree to the teenage aficionados; psychologists write reports, books and articles analyzing us, and psychiatrists treat our poor misguided parents.

Today we are an important influence on the American scene. We have become important molders of public opinion. The field of music offers the most obvious example. Rock 'n' Roll, the term that brings greater terror to the eyes of our parents than the blood-curdling cry of Tarzan ever brought to any man-eating cannibal, has become the most prominent style of music since the days of swing.

Another example which is not as obvious and is reminiscent of the old "Take me to your leader" gags, is in the field of leadership. Did you know that in the United States many teenagers are prominent community leaders? This is especially true in New York City and at Van Buren. New York high school students are often requested to speak before radio, television, and college or high school professors and principals. As a matter of fact, Van Buren sophomores spoke at Columbia before social studies and English chairmen from the eastern seaboard, on the subject of education. Not long ago, another Van Burenite appeared on the Voice of America, while others have been before television cameras analyzing, instructing, and explaining youth activities. Local organizations, such as the American Legion, have repeatedly asked for Van Buren students to be guest speakers; and borough and city-wide discussions have been organized and run by teenagers with many Van Buren students playing prominent roles. But "you haven't heard nuttin' yet," for these are just a few examples of the role of teenagers on the local scene. These leaders are looked upon with respect to a great degree. I doubt if everyone realizes that the American teenager of today no longer just "exists" as his counterpart of ten years ago did, but "lives"—and in so doing is becoming an important personality, assuming responsibility and commanding respect.

Teenagers are important world figures, too. Van Buren students are more than just holding their own in this respect. They are playing vital and prominent roles in world renowned activities. The Daily Mirror Youth Forum has had many Van Burenites participating in its world-publicized Forum. Of the thirty-three carefully screened and highly-qualified youth leaders of the Forum, two were selected from Van Buren as panel leaders from over one-hundred candidates, only two years ago. Last year we had four winners, one of whom was selected as the General Chairman or leader of the entire Forum, the highest position available, and another was chosen as the foreign student hostess.

I say, teenagers affect the future of America. Our cynical adults will readily agree to this fact and point to the rise in crime, juvenile delinquency, and immoral literature, but this is not the true picture. In reality, this decadence may be a result of adult complacency towards the morals of society. Yet we, the youth, are influencing the nation in a positive sense. For example, the High School Council for the United Nations in New York is organizing American youth to keep them informed of United Nations activities. They conduct press conferences with important people such as Mrs. Roosevelt, and they also hold parties for foreign youth delegates and publish a newspaper. This group is the most active in the nation and has been asked to help plan the organization of our nation's youth in other parts of our country into similar groups. The president, corresponding secretary, and members of the executive board, are, as you probably guessed, all from Van Buren. This is a further example of important work teenagers perform, yet we never read about it. They receive recognition from government and community leaders, but never from the rest of us.

These are just a few of the ways in which we are influencing our country's future. Did you know that Van Buren students were such important leaders? Did you ever stop to think of the important positions they hold, and the vital jobs they do? Did our parents perform similar deeds when they were young, in "the good ole days"? I doubt it. This is the effect of a ten-year old revolution—the teenage revolution. The revolt for recognition.

You may be interested in a few more examples of the results of this revolution. One Van Burenite was asked by Radio Free Europe to appear before their microphones, but couldn't because it might have endangered the lives of relatives abroad; others have been guest speakers at one-hundred-dollar-a-plate governmental conventions, and a Van Buren officer of the High School Council for the United Nations has been asked to go upstate to speak at their high schools in order to organize their U.N. clubs. These are just more examples of the impressive and important role American youth is playing on the American scene.

So, in just ten short years, the American teenager has changed from a mere student to an active community and national leader. Therefore the fifties, which will go down in history as the decade of revolutions because of the Korean, Latin-American, and Middle East revolutions, have seen a more important revolution—the revolution of the teenager.

JERRY DUROVIC

Ah Yes, I Remember it Well

Now that our diplomas are safe and sound at home, we on the Yearbook staff cannot forget some of the incidents that made our stay at Van Buren more memorable.

Ah, yes I remember it well,

the time my report card looked like a distress signal: S O S UN UN . . .

the time I ran into Mr. Denn while he was going up a "down" stairway . . .

the time Congress almost passed a bill to abolish the "Red Youth Organization," Boys' League . . .

the time Arista was almost banned from Van Buren as a secret society . . .

the time I wore my senior hat to a masquerade and won first prize . . .

the time I spent searching for a college which offers a good program for lunch majors . . .

the time I cut English to work on the Student Honor Code . . .

the time I wore my winter coat to school and then ran track in my gym suit . . .

the time I cut math and English and received a detention slip for missing study . . .

the time I gave my senior ring to my junior boyfriend . . .

the time I earned my senior dues by selling swimming pool passes . . .

the time I directed a sophomore to room 499 and then couldn't find my home-room . . .

the time I had Jello on my Thanksgiving turkey . . .

the time I roasted marshmallows over my old review books . . .

the time I had photostats made of my diploma to send to all my teachers . . .
(And they said it couldn't be done!)

the time I laughed at the thought of leaving Van Buren and shed a tear after graduation . . .

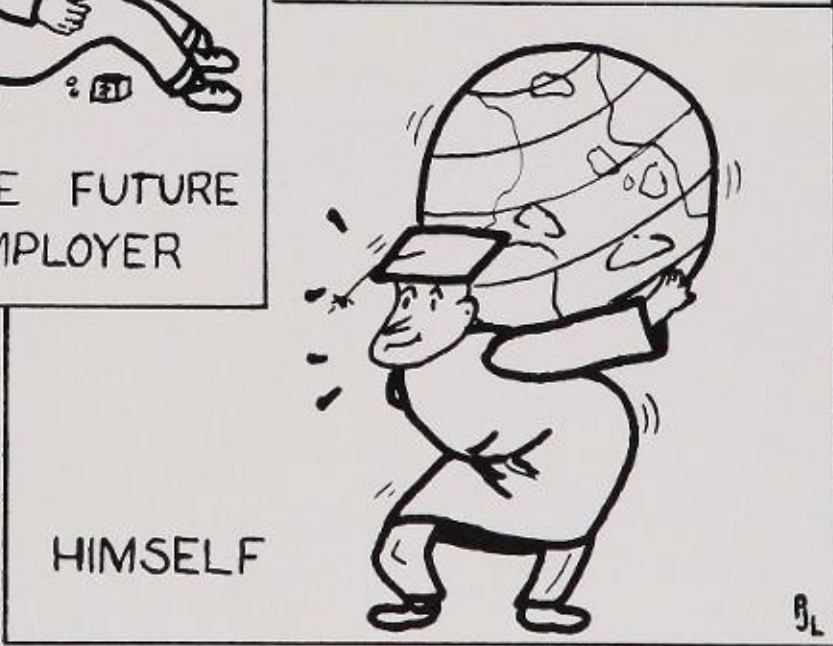

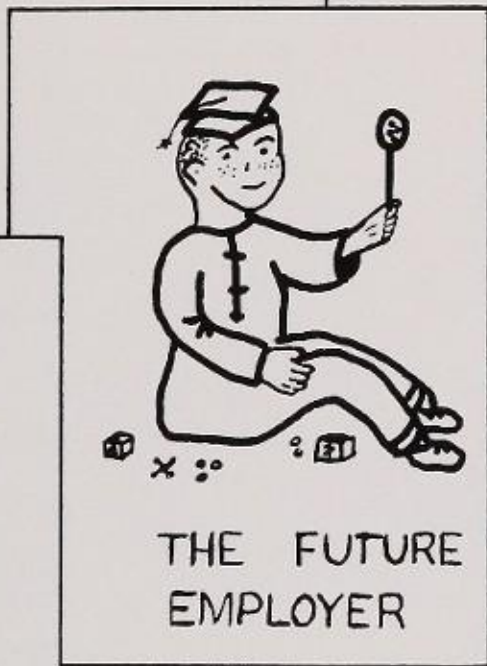

Yes, we will always remember these experiences; often grave, but now pleasant memories which will be carried fondly by us all into the future.

Visible Destiny

How like the intermingling of shining springs,
The gathering of drops upon a window pane.
Probing, I unfold the riddle of mankind.

Watch that eager explorer, an only drop
Struggle with our unseen adversaries.
For years I've overlooked its tragic death.

T'is a guiding hand which rules drops and men,
For as the pioneer vanishes
Two new are born.

I too once questioned strength in numbers,
But as these drops of life silently join,
A path of beings, though foggy, is forming.

Three, now seven, scores more arrive
So swiftly that he alone is blurred,
And yet I see all in their flowing deed.

Now down that smooth screen they charge,
Now softer, smaller 'til time's end.
There is no stop for drops and men.

Where do they go, these bubbles of us,
Upon reaching that final visible phase?
Their glory is but believed, trusted and obeyed.

SAM SPERLING

Windows

Early in the morn
the droplets of moisture
clothe the window
Letting in little light.

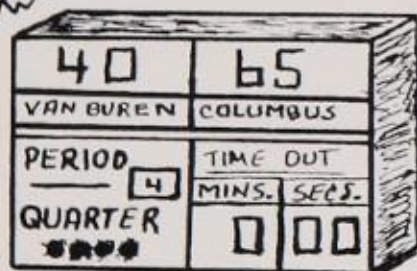

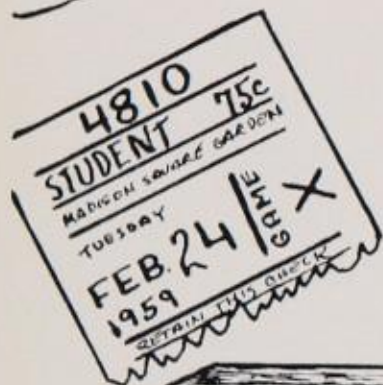

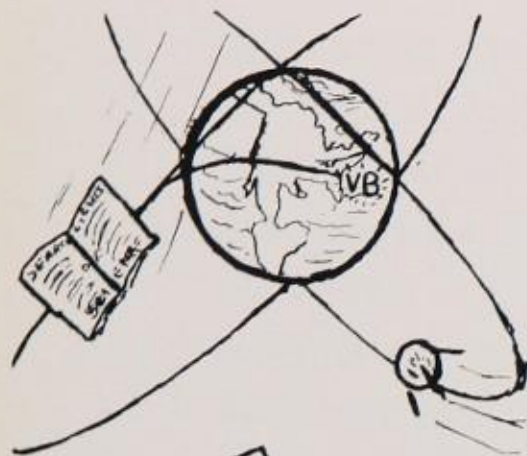

Soon
this coating disappears,
And images become clearer.
Thoughts, ideas take their shapes.

Sometimes
the pane is rippled with tiny imperfections;
Then the images, thoughts, ideas
are distorted.

Smooth again,
the view is sharpened; now objective.
In an all-knowing moment
The rays penetrate deep within
Illuminating the entire soul.
This magic flash comes
Before the tiny droplets of dew descend,
Before darkness is suspended over all
And the window of the mind is closed.

BARBARA NEDELL

Dear Diary

Sept. 10, 1957—Finally made it . . . graduating from junior high and entering high school. Van Buren is so new . . . wonder how the teachers and students are? It's so dark when I come home and the buses are so crowded . . . took me a long time to wash the footprints off my neck.

Sept. 12, 1957—Did it again . . . had my third program change in two days. Thought there was a swimming pool in the building and found myself wading in a puddle of water in front of the school.

Nov. 6, 1957—Completed taking the Iowa Test today. Results are supposed to determine our aptitudes . . . mine must be hidden.

Nov. 12, 1957—Caught it today . . . the Asian Flu has caused over fifteen percent of the school to be absent. It is the first really foreign disease I've ever had.

Nov. 27, 1957—Whew! High school isn't that easy after all . . . just arrived home after my last midterm exam.

Dec. 5, 1957—School lobby was scene of chaos . . . ticket sales committee tried to persuade several hundred non-conformists to purchase flowers in honor of VB's birthday . . . Experience led to wisdom—the dye rubbed off.

Dec. 13, 1957—Spent an enjoyable evening at "Cyclorama" . . . included several plays and a variety of musical entertainment . . . have about forty programs to remind me.

Dec. 16, 1957—For the first time today, all freshmen and sophomores voted for class leaders—Marty Levine and Bob Zohlman were the lucky winners . . . Vive la democracy!

Feb. 7, 1958—What was today like? A day like any other day, except: Lights went off, clocks stopped and I ate raw food in the dark lunchroom.

Feb. 17, 1958—Had some snowstorm yesterday . . . of course the buses didn't run . . . found out later from my neighbor who went (by bus?) that there were only four hundred students in school.

Mar. 24, 1958—Received a copy of "Van Buren's answer to Sputnik" today in Bio. —Searchlights of Science—Had to read it over a few times till it became clear to me that I couldn't understand it.

May 17, 1958—The First Annual Spring Concert was presented tonight . . . Auditorium was filled to capacity and the performance was worthy of much acclaim.

May 23, 1958—Visited the school library and saw the science fair. Entries consisted of various types of projects—this is just one example of our progressive education.

June 13, 1958—Friday, the thirteenth. Of all days for a Geometry Regents! I hope luck was with me . . . never thought I was superstitious before.

Oct. 1, 1958—Getting back to old routine of school again. A new service credit system was started this term . . . just another stub to add to the G. O. Cards . . . can't understand why I can't have four minor services?

Oct. 22, 1958—Students finally voted to ratify the Constitution of the G.O. It was defeated four times . . . guess it's about time.

Dec. 17, 1958—Van Buren was named one of the winners of the Parents' Magazine's Youth Achievement Awards for Juvenile Decency . . . Think that it's natural for most of us to be decent?

Dec. 23, 1958—Former Vee Bees returned today to celebrate the Second Annual Alumni Day. A Christmas program including excerpts from The Messiah was presented . . . after singing for three shows, my voice cracked into many pieces.

Jan. 26, 1959—In today's assembly, five foreign students discussed the basic aspects of our image abroad. The boy from England couldn't understand why we all seemed to be dressed alike, when we are free to wear whatever we choose . . . call it conformism.

Feb. 24, 1959—Our basketball team finally made the Garden . . . over twenty-five hundred Vee Bees crowded on the chartered buses to view the game between V. B. and Columbus H. S. It was a let-down when our team missed the basket and dropped out of the fight for the City Championship.

Mar. 14, 1959—At the Thirty-fifth Annual Convention of the Columbia Press Association, The Beeline and Currents won first place . . . budding journalists in our midst.

April 10, 1959—Won the first thing in my life tonight at the Twirp Dance . . . a Johnny Mathis record album. I surely thought that the swing band played much better than the Rocking Chairs, and should have stayed.

May 2, 1959—Took the Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test today . . . I might have merit in some things, but I certainly won't qualify.

Spent the fastest three hours in my life taking College Boards . . . think I made at least 200 . . . the terrible thing is that they count for me.

June 5, 1959—The Junior Prom was held in the Cafeteria . . . it was really a swingin' affair. The theme was Bali-Hai and everyone wearing leis . . . during a lindy, I was almost strangled.

Oct. 12, 1959—Today it was announced in Gym that until Thanksgiving we would have to go out-doors for physical activity . . . It was so cold that we had to run around the track to keep warm . . . What a horrible way to spoil the new field and ruin the girls—the emergency room was loaded with casualties.

Oct. 14, 1959—The N. Y. S. Scholarship Exams were given today in the auditorium and in the library (for the lucky ones) . . . the only thing I got was a stiff neck.

Oct. 16, 1959—The Bohemian Ball was held in the Gym tonight . . . over nine hundred "beatniks" showed up . . . the Village must have been deserted.

Nov. 23, 1959—The junior class has decided to adopt a Korean orphan . . . wouldn't mind jumping into the wishing well when it's filled.

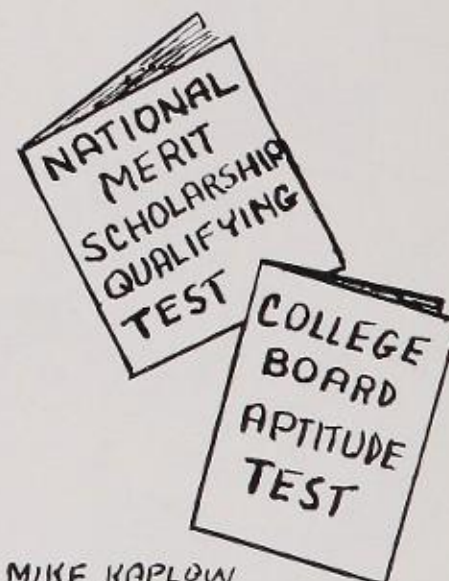

Dec. 5, 1959—Now my friends know how I felt in May . . . the June seniors took College Boards today . . . hope they got at least three hundred.

Jan. 15, 1960—Celebrated tonight at the January Dinner-Dance . . . Afterwards a group of us went to a night club and "lived it up" . . . I knew I shouldn't have drunk so much punch.

Jan. 26, 1960—Finished at last! All the studying is over, and I can throw away the piles of history and English notes which are wall-papering my room . . . I'll never take a Regents Exam again . . . thank goodness!

Feb. 1, 1960—The most momentous occasion in my life took place today—graduated from Van Buren . . . Two hundred students left that wonderful school. Where are most of them going? To college in less than a week . . . that's when we'll really appreciate Van Buren. But regardless of destination, good luck to them all!

Looking Backward Blues

LOOKING BACK over those exciting, wonderful, never-to-be-forgotten, FABULOUS teen years, I see many glowing memories which I REMEMBER and treasure highly.

I recall clearly how the PLAIN JANE from down my block grew up to become my DREAM LOVER—how she went from BOBBY SOX TO STOCKINGS, and all in ONE NIGHT.

I remember when my first test mark at Van Buren was 64. I became known as MR. BLUE and heard that BROKEN HEARTED MELODY. I recall now, how WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL it was to pass the next exam in the 90's. MY HAPPINESS made me want to SHOUT with joy. WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DAY MAKES!

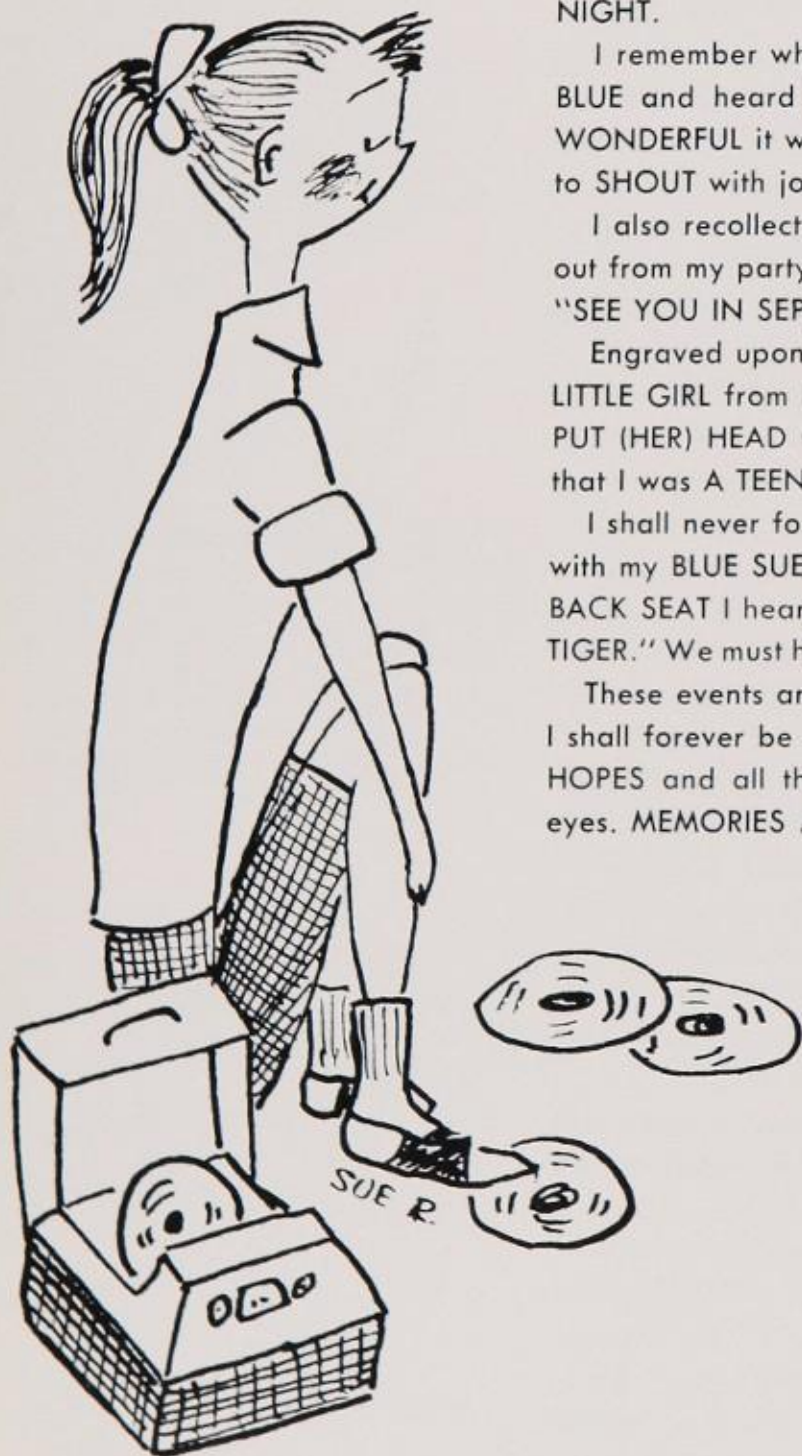

I also recollect what a LONELY BOY I was when my TALLAHASSEE LASSIE stomped out from my party after she found LIPSTICK ON MY COLLAR. When casually SHE SAY, "SEE YOU IN SEPTEMBER," I became ALL SHOOK UP. (It was October).

Engraved upon my memory is the thought of how I became bold enough to ask that LITTLE GIRL from history class to the WESTERN MOVIES, and later that week how she PUT (HER) HEAD ON MY SHOULDER AT THE HOP. It was then FOR THE FIRST TIME, that I was A TEENAGER IN LOVE.

I shall never forget when I wore my WHITE SPORT COAT AND A PINK CARNATION with my BLUE SUEDE SHOES to the Junior Prom. Also, afterward, how SITTING IN THE BACK SEAT I heard the police officer say "WAKE UP LITTLE SUZIE; IT'S LATE; you too, TIGER." We must have heard just one too many HUSHABYE.

These events and many others bring back to my memory those fabulous teen years. I shall forever be MISTY, remembering those HEARTACHES BY THE NUMBER, my HIGH HOPES and all the LAVENDER BLUE. These all bring sentimental TEARDROPS to my eyes. MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS!

Doctors, Lawyers,

A prophetic philosopher once stated, "A learned man always has riches." Undoubtedly, he must have been a profound individual, for in Martin Van Buren High School this year, many students were accorded "riches" in token of their "learned" abilities. This was a banner year for scholarship, and recipients in most areas far exceeded past performances.

In the graduating class, Martin Van Buren's own Mr. Univac, Valedictorian Robert R. Savio, obtained an unprecedented high school average of 96.6% (a figure obtained by a compilation and average of the individual's high school grades for the first three years). The other "top ten" students, placed in order of rank, were Martin Breiner, Joyce Coster, Robert Zohlman, Roanne Helbraun, Sally Greenstein, Stephen Raskin, Phyllis Krumholtz, Michael Waldman, and Karen Hefter. Incidentally, these traditional "top ten" were in the top one per cent of Van Buren's graduating class, and nine of them attained a 95% average or better.

Ten individuals also qualified for consideration in the scholarship offered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals to members of the National Honor Society. These worthy individuals were Seth Isman (Mr. Scholarship), Joyce Coster (Miss Scholarship), Arthur Frank, Robert Goldberg, Karen Hefter, Lawrence Parker, Stephen Raskin, Mark Spahn, Corinne Anthony, and Robert R. Savio.

Competition in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test produced four Van Buren finalists: Arthur Frank (Mr. Infallible), Seth Isman, Michael Waldman, and Herbert Zuckerman. Selection was based on a preliminary screening test (the N.M.S.Q.T.), excellent results on the College Entrance Boards, and past performance in the high school itself. In the final decisions, Michael Waldman went all the way as he lassoed a monetary scholarship.

Of the above, four Merit Scholarship finalists, three qualified as finalists in the General Motors Scholarship Examination. Seth Isman succeeded in meeting all requirements as he vaulted to a coveted finalist position. The two other semi-finalists were Arthur Frank and Michael Waldman.

Nor was Van Buren scholarship confined within liberal arts areas. Seven science students in the school received honorable mention in the Westinghouse National Science Talent Search, with Robert R. Savio ultimately placing as one of the forty nation-wide finalists. Requirements included excellence in three phases of endeavor: Outstanding performance on a science aptitude examination, performance on previous high school academic record, and a report submitted on a scientific project performed by the applicant. The six other honorable mentions included Martin Breiner, Arthur Frank, Barr Forman, Mark Spahn, Johanna Stenzel (Van Buren's own Madame Curie), and Philip Wolfson.

In Van Buren's other annual scholarship awards, students surpassed all previous expectations. Fifty-three Van Burenites received general awards of financial assistance

in the New York State Regents Scholarship competition: Corinne Anthony, Steven Baum, Kenneth Berkowitz, David Bernstein, Joyce Coster, Barbara Falkenbach, Ellen Dee Fenster, Henry Fogel, Barr Forman, Judith Forman, Arthur Frank, Irma Friedman, Frederic Gaylinn, Robert Goldberg, Mary Gregerson, Gerald Greenhouse, William Haasters, Roanne Helbraun, Fred Horowitz, David Ingis, Seth Isman, Michael Kalmanash, Lester Kaplan, Michael Margolin, Barry Meyer, Barbara Michelman, Joshua Morris, Peter Moscato, Martin Newman, Lawrence Parker, Daniel Rappaport, Stephen Raskin, Warren Reier, Steven Rosenberg, Lewis Rubin, Robert R. Savio, Gerald Schwartz, Willard Selfridge, Spencer Silverstein, Stephen Skye, Leslie Sloane, Mark Spahn, Samuel Sperling, David Spielberg, Alan Sutherland, Eric Toder, Victor Varady, Michael Waldman, Barbara Wallman, Carole Weinman, Jacqueline Winetz, Philip Wolfson, and Herbert Zuckerman. In addition, eleven received grants for excellent performance on the Regents Scholarship Examination for Engineering, Chemistry, Physics, and Mathematics. Recipients included Frederic Gaylinn, Fred Horowitz, Seth Isman, Joshua Morris, Daniel Rappaport, Stephen Raskin, Warren Reier, Robert R. Savio, Mark Spahn, Michael Waldman, and Herbert Zuckerman. Finally, two girls in the school received Regents Nursing Scholarships. These were Jacqueline Levy and Marcy Neuschatz.

Rounding out the scholarship distinctions were those garnered in specialized fields of study. Martin Breiner and Daniel Rappaport received recognition as semi-finalists on the Fannie and John Hertz Engineering Scholarship. Similarly, Kenneth Berkowitz was named first prize winner of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers Prize Essay Content, entitling him to a $50 Savings Bond and Citation Certificate. In the annual Tobe-Coburn School of Fashion Scholarship competition, Joyce Kouba succeeded in attaining a finalist position. At the writing of this article, several students were waiting hopefully for notification of other pending scholarship awards.

Now that these students have obtained their monetary and scholastic "riches" as learned individuals, it is hoped that many will consider Ben Franklin's terse words in connection with all future educational pursuits for intellectual "riches":

"Virtue and wisdom are the only riches over which neither thieves nor fortune have any power. For if a man empties his purse into his head, no man may take it away from him. An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest."

It is the confident belief of fellow teachers, parents and friends, that all will expend their knowledgeable "riches" wisely, and will emerge as the future formulators of the fate of the Nation.

Growing Panes

The panes are somewhat hazy now,
When I attempt a backward view.
I can, however, see a child,
Who may be you, looking through.

This child is leaving her mother's side,
To face "the perilous world outside."
What is this building she is entering,
Around which her life will now be centering?

She is taking her place in line with the others,
Who are all saying good-bye to their mothers.
"Who is this person the others call teacher?
I like Mommy better, she's not a preacher."

This is only the first big step,
Her elementary education has just begun.
Learning reading, writing and the like,
School is an adventure—interesting and fun.

As this little miss completes this phase of her life,
She knows little of worldly trouble and strife.
While learning of people, places and things,
She even wished, perhaps, that she had wings!

This adolescent enters high school with the right perspective.
She plans to work hard, 'cause college is her objective.
High school is both challenging and new;
The clubs, the activities of the Red and Blue.

The structure of the school is so immense,
That it's enough to make anybody tense.
The modern classrooms, the long halls,
That are completely filled, except for the walls.

On her first day in Van Buren High,
She becomes lost and dissatisfied.
She asks a Senior to direct her,
And then realized that he had lied.

SENIOR
PROM

As a Sophomore, she thinks she knows her way around,
But those Seniors let her down with a bound.
They get to all the teachers first,
In their great service credit "search."

The Senior in her Spanish Class:

He is such a "real great kid."

"Why must I be a sophomore?"

A Senior girl has his bid."

As a Junior, she begins to feel

At least she's climbing now.

Up the ladder, to the top,

College will be her next stop.

Getting into college,

This is what they fear.

And from each and every Senior,

This is what you hear:

"To the College Office, college here I come!

Oh my average! It seems so savage.

I want to go to college,

But I can't without knowledge."

It comes at last — her Senior year is here:

College Boards and scholarships,

Senior Day and Senior Show.

"Why must they come too slow?"

And graduation finally arrives,

With its sentiments all too many:

Tears for leaving,

Cheers for receiving:

The diploma — memorable in our lives.

Looking forward, the casement is a glass of mist.

I cannot predict what her future holds.

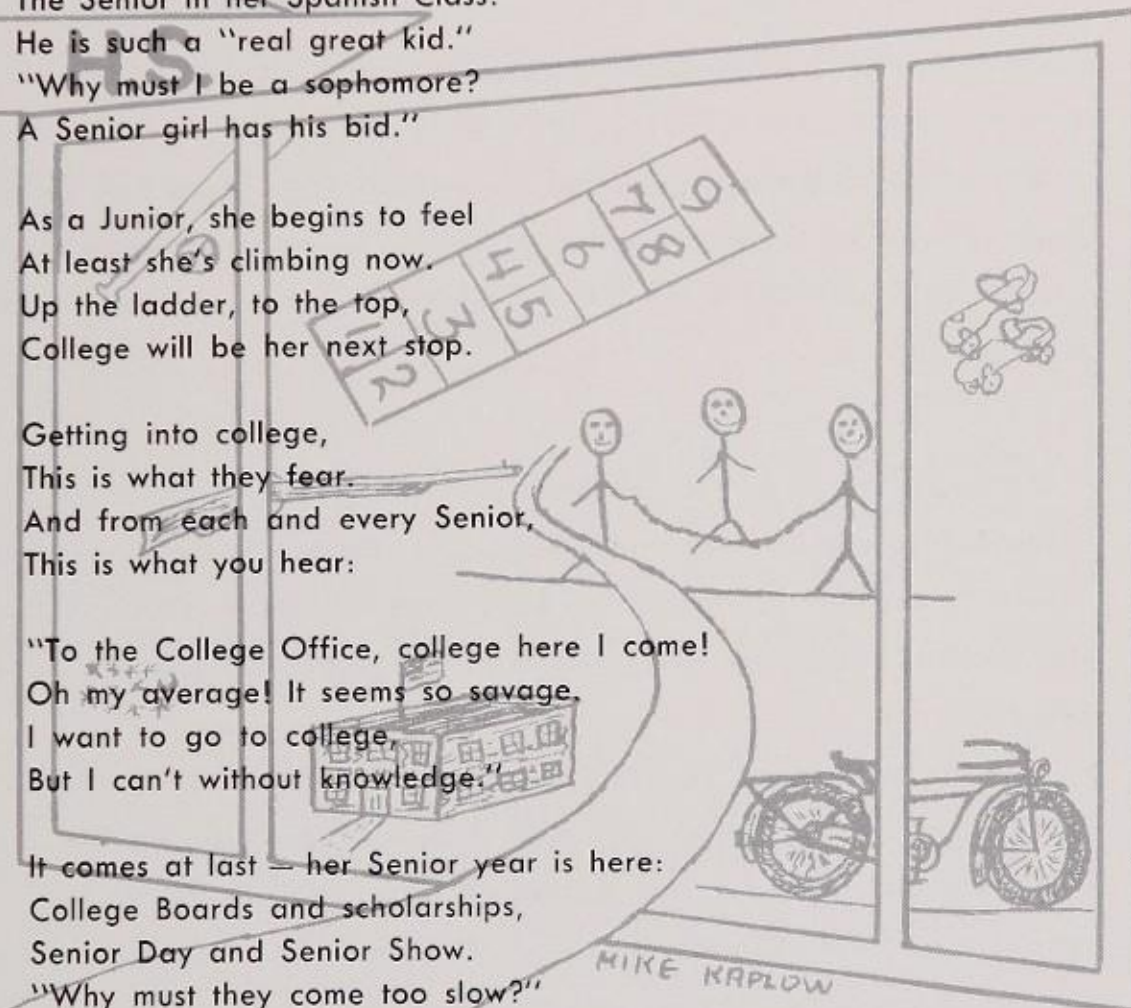

This young adult has hopes and ambitions,

Which will form the mold,

Of the person she is soon to behold.

Athletes and Athletics

"Before us and our friends is the challenge of an ideology, which, for more than four decades, has trumpeted abroad its purpose of gaining ultimate victory . . . The competition they provide is formidable."

—President Eisenhower, 1960 State of the Union Address

These words of President Eisenhower were recently broadcasted throughout our country. They were emphatically directed towards the youth of America. How do we at Van Buren measure up to this challenge in athletics?

We, who shall become interwoven in that fine fabric of our free society, must also strive by our every action and service to make ourselves worthy of such an accountable position. It is with this thought that I begin my article on athletic achievement at Van Buren.

During the last three years, athletic participation in Van Buren has changed from listless indifference to fervent enthusiasm. Our school has violently burst forth from its "shell" to city-wide renown in five short years. We have reached the apex in athletic prowess in baseball, basketball, track and cross-country events, as well as riflery and soccer.

In 1958, many of us witnessed the fateful baseball game against Curtis High at Ebbet's Field, which, having been won, afforded Van Buren the City Championship.

For the last two years our basketball team received the coveted invitation to represent the South Queens division at Madison Square Garden, in the playoffs for the City Championship. This year our great team gave its honored coach, Charlie Shannon, an undefeated season going into the semi-finals. And, after beating both Haaren and Jefferson, our "Courageous Little Men" took fourth place in the City Championship.

This year our newly-formed rifle team started off with a bang. It narrowly missed the championships by losing the deciding match against the Jamaica team.

Richard Vehlow, captain of our Cross Country Team, captured the City Championship at Van Cortlandt Park in November. Mel Fishler bowled his way into third place in the City Championship matches recently. Bob Waldhauer made the All-City 'B' Division Soccer Team this season. Alan Green came in second in the P.S.A.L. City Championship Tennis '59 Match.

Attaining these records was of course a result of team cooperation, but certain individuals stand out in our minds as the stars and should be given special recognition. Abiding with this policy, it is with great honor that I announce the following team awards:

|---------------------|--|
| Baseball..... | Edward Brancaccio |
| Basketball..... | Richard Stopa, Vern Cummings, Larry Kasday, Dan Parham |
| Rifle..... | David Goldman, Sam Lloyd |
| Gymkana..... | Danny Sternbach, David Spielberg, James Lemmerman |
| Track..... | James Riley |
| Cross Country | Richard Vehlow |
| Bowling..... | Paul Martin |
| Soccer..... | Robert Waldhauer, George Lau, Leroy Ald |
| Tennis..... | Allan Green |
| Handball..... | Robert Tenenbaum |
| Golf..... | Carl Saltz and Larry Kasday |

Don't think the girls at Van Buren have not done their share! Since intermural sports are not permitted among the "weaker sex," clubs have been formed in the school to increase their interest in athletics. These seniors deserve special recognition for outstanding athletic merit:

| | |
|----------------------|---------------------------------|
| Softball..... | Linda Diemer |
| Track and Field..... | Brenda Rushing |
| Bowling..... | Mary Cirri, Charlotte Wirth |
| Field Hockey..... | Marsha Engleman, Dorothy Scarry |
| Volleyball..... | Diane Brooks |

At the Newtown Playday, Vee Bee girls showed their hidden abilities. On the 1958 winning relay team were Brenda Rushing, Diane Brooks and Linda Diemer. On the 1959 team were Diane O'Reilly, Linda Diemer, Diane Brooks and Brenda Rushing. Linda Diemer also won the Softball trophy in 1958, and Brenda Rushing received the Basketball trophy the same year.

In summing up this new venture for Futura, I would like to say that I think it will be very difficult indeed for future generations of Van Burenites to live up to our great record.

Just think of the records that we could have broken, if only we had a pool!

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of '60, will not soon forget the teachers who have instructed us at Van Buren. As a token of appreciation for all our memories, we bequeath certain well-deserved gifts to the following immortals:

| | |
|--------------------------------|---|
| Mr. Denn | his leadership to guide the next Senior class. |
| Mr. Wolff | this yearbook. |
| Mr. Crootof | our deepest appreciation for his invaluable assistance to the Futura tradition. |
| Mr. Stogel | the classroom that doesn't overlook the gym area. |
| Miss Jones | a window to "sauter" by. |
| Mr. Koslitsky | an experiment that works. |
| Mr. Rappaport | a Senior paper that's out on time. |
| Mr. Cohen | a new razor blade. |
| Miss Glenz | a Leader. |
| Miss Wigiser | a Girl's League member. |
| Mrs. Fiering | a speedy recovery. |
| Mr. Kaye | a dictionary that doesn't include the word 'cancel.' |
| Miss McNierney | happiness. |
| Mr. Fingerhut | an Amherst pamphlet. |
| Miss Convy | less noise from the Yearbook Staff. |
| Mrs. Rabinowitz | nu stu'dent. |
| Mrs. Rieger | a golf trophy. |
| Mrs. Byron | well-mannered boys. |
| Mr. Cascio | a beret. |
| Mrs. O'Donnell | another Jeff Ullman. |
| The new Senior class | our traditions and a goal. |
| Van Buren | we leave. |

CLASS OF 1960

MILNER

Looking Forward

*Often do the spirits
Of great events stride on before the events,
And in to-day already walks tomorrow.*

—Coleridge

*Remember this also, and be well persuaded of its truth;
the future is not in the hands of Fate, but in ours.*

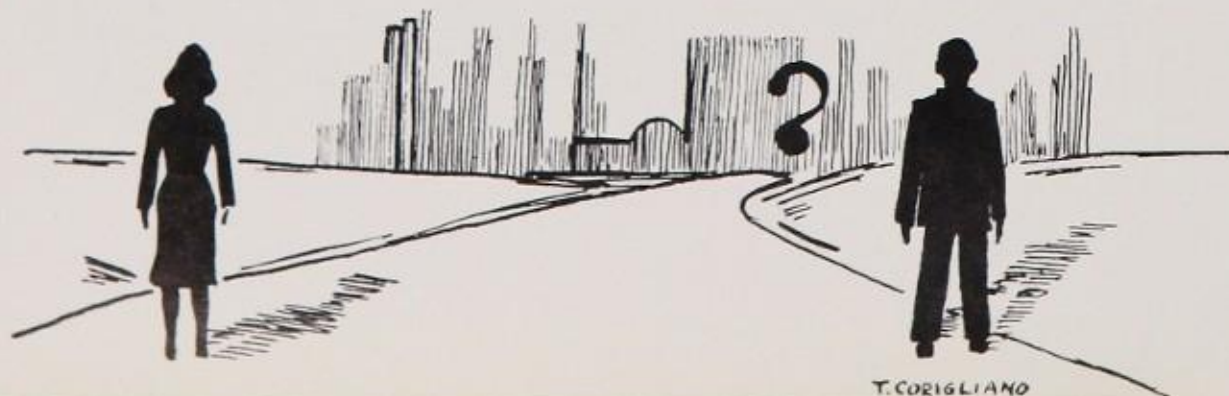

—Jules Jusserand

Viewing the world through our imaginary portals of life, we, as future trustees of posterity, must be aware of the changing conditions of society. We are upon the threshold of decision and accomplishment, yet our path seems blocked by uncertainty and unfamiliarity. Despite our confusion, we are all capable of discovering and accepting our respective positions in the world of today.

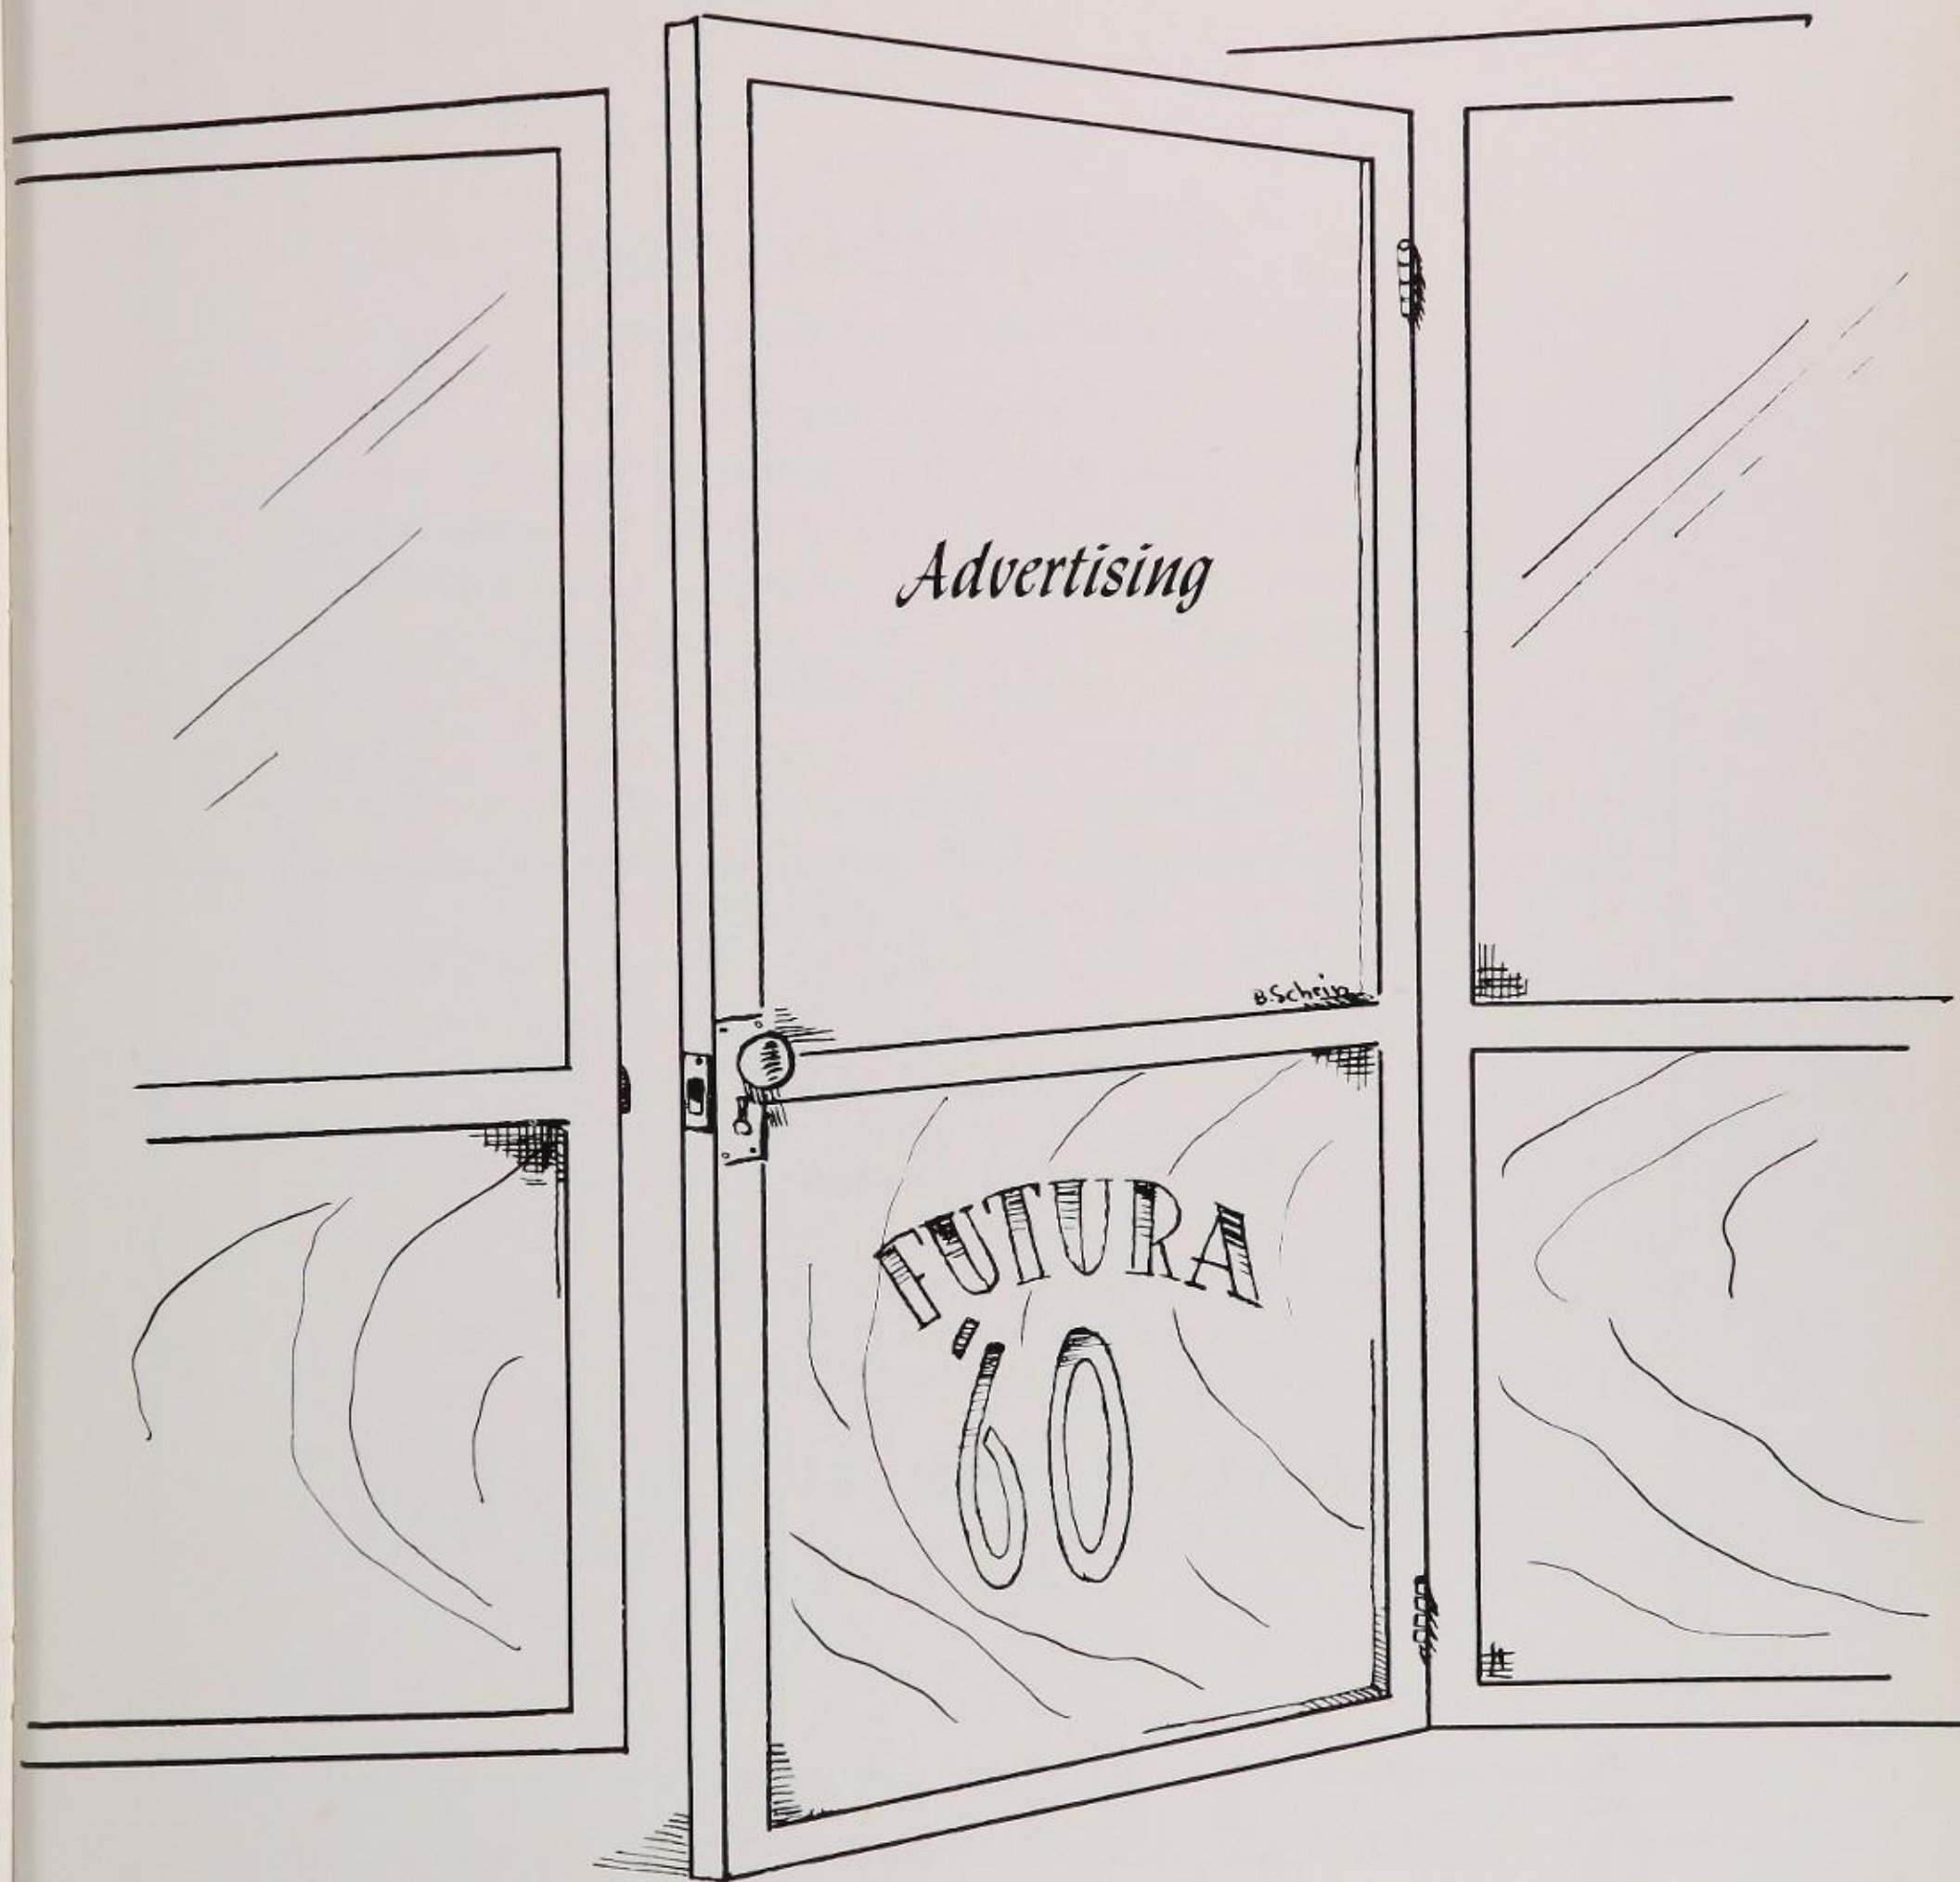

In order to do this we must realize that society is ever-changing. After all, life itself is a fluid motion: an unending process of changing conditions so essential in the development of mankind. Depressions, recessions, inflation, deflation—all are phases of our changing society. Success, failure, dejection, elation—all are highlights of the growth from adolescent youth to adulthood. Just as a nation struggles before progressing, the inexperienced adolescent similarly plods through the pitfalls of society before successfully taking his place in it.

As we graduate from high school, we are uncertain and doubtful. Many of us feel unprepared for the complexities of our changing society. We find that as adolescents we were somewhat isolated from the dynamic world around us. We question our ability as determiners of the fate of our nation. But we can and will succeed by remaining objective at all times, by continuing our search for knowledge, and by using past experiences to guide our futures so that we may change and mature with society.
